The Weather button displays a temperature, which is the current temperature in your loved one's area. For more details:

- Click the "Weather" button on the Care Menu
- A 5-day forecast for your loved one's area is displayed near the top of the screen
- Click the "Current Conditions" button to get more details about the current weather conditions for your loved one's area

Checking the Weather - Loved One

There are quite a number of ways to see the weather displayed on your loved one's system.

- On the main screen of the system, there is an icon representing the current weather conditions, and displaying the current temperature
- Press that icon to display a screen with a 5-day forecast
- Your loved one can also see the 5-day forecast screen using the Main Menu. Press the "News" button, then the "Weather" button
- The weather forecast is also one of the slides that can be included in the digital slideshow
